OUR LITTLE GRANDCHILD

Cleansed, Purified and Beautified by the Cuticura Remedies.

It affords me pleasure to give you this report of the cure of our little grandchild by your CUTICURA REMEDIES. When six months old his left hand began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid scab, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the care of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula, of course). He could walk a little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURA REMEDIES, using the CUTICURA and CUTICURA SOAP freely, and when he had taken one bottle of the CUTICURA RESOLVENT his head was completely cured, and he was improved in every way. We were very much encouraged and continued the use of the Remedies for a year and a half. One sore after another healed, a bony matter forming in each one of these five deep ones just before healing, which would finally grow loose and were taken out, then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly bone formations I preserved. After taking a dozen and a half bottles he was completely cured, and is now, at the age of six years, a strong and healthy child. The scars on his hands must always remain; his hands are strong, though we once feared he would never be able to use them. All the physicians did for him did him no good. All who saw the child before using the CUTICURA REMEDIES and see the child now consider it a wonderful cure. If the above facts are of any use to you, you are at liberty to use them. MRS. E. S. DRIGGS.

May 9, 1885. 612 E. Clay st., Bloomington, Ill.

The child was really in a worse condition than he appeared to his grandmother, who being with him every day became accustomed to the disease.

Some Close Figuring on the Fiftieth Congress.

HUNDREDS OF INDIANS DESTITUTE

Express Messenger Fotheringham Indicted—Pleuro Pneumonia in Indiana—Liberty Standing in the Dark.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—There is every indication of a feverish and exciting session of congress. Indeed, the result of the next presidential election may entirely depend upon the action of the house this winter regarding certain contested election cases. It is not improbable that the next presidential election may be thrown into congress, should there be a labor ticket in the field, when the house of representatives would under the constitution be required to choose immediately by ballot a president. In making that choice, votes shall be taken by states, the representation from each state having one vote, so that in order to carry the election one party or the other must control the delegations from a majority of the states.

DIVISION BY STATES.

There are thirty-eight states, but New Hampshire has a delegation equally divided politically, one republican and one democrat. Hence the voice of that state would be silent in the choice of a president by the house.

Rhode Island has elected one republican, and in her other district there is a vacancy, but the politics of the state render it almost certain that before the fiftieth congress meets that vacancy will be filled by the election of a republican. Conceding Rhode Island to the republicans, that party will control the following states: California, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Nebraska, Nevada, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Rhode Island, Pennsylvania, Vermont, Virginia and Wisconsin—19.

The Democrats will control Alabama, Arkansas, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and West Virginia. But the constitution requires that a majority of all the states shall be necessary to a choice. Under this clause twenty votes will be necessary to elect a president, as there are thirty-eight states.

THE SENATE.

Should the house fail to elect a president before the 4th day of March next following, then the vice president shall act as president. In the constitution devolves the duty of electing a vice president in the event of failure by the people to elect upon the senate. A narrow margin will divide the two parties in the next senate. That body will stand thirty-seven democrats to thirty-nine republicans.

The democrats would have the advantage of a party majority in the house, and could, it is intimated, should party exigencies require it, resort to the extremity of unseating a republican and seating a democrat in his place. A change of one member in the Indiana delegation for instance and one in Michigan would give the democrats the twenty votes necessary, and parties are sometimes ready to resort to extremes to win a presidency.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

SEVEN HUNDRED INDIANS DESTITUTE.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—The secretary of the interior having received from the war department a telegram from Gen Howard, saying that Gen Miles reports that 700 Hualpai Indians located on a reservation in Northwestern Arizona are now in a destitute condition in a barren country, and must be fed or starve, has requested the military authorities to issue two-thirds rations per day to those Indians to the extent of $5000, the whole of an appropriation made by congress for their support, and in the event that that sum proves insufficient to subsist them through the winter or until they are able to provide for themselves, that the interior department be advised of the fact before the $5000 is exhausted, when further provision will if possible be made for their subsistence. The government ration for an Indian is three pounds of beef, gross, and half a pound of flour per day.

THE ARID REGION.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—Dr George Vasey, botanist of the agricultural department, who has recently spent several weeks in the arid region, in a report to the commissioner of agriculture expresses a belief that a large portion of the area so designated may be made vastly more productive by the cultivation of some of the more prolific species of grass and forage plants than gramma and buffalo grasses upon which cattle now subsist. It is however a matter to be determined by experiment, and to this end he recommends the utilization of the Fort Wallace New Mexico reservation as an experimental station.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONER OF CUSTOMS.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—The annual report of Commissioner of Customs McCalmont to the secretary of the treasury shows that during the past fiscal year there was paid into the treasury from sources accounts relating to which are settled in his office $[illegible], of which $[illegible] was received from customs duties. During the same period there was paid out for expenses connected with administration of this branch of the government service $[illegible], $[illegible] of which was on account of the expenses of collecting revenues from customs.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—Fifth Auditor Eckhoff in his annual report to the secretary of the treasury shows that during the last fiscal year 10,835 accounts were settled in his office involving $8,105,882.12.

In the consular service expenditures were $[illegible]606, being $13,045 in excess of receipts. The amount of consular fees collected during the year was $[illegible], an increase over the previous year of $[illegible].

A VAST SUM.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—The total collections of internal revenue from the time the present system was organized, July 1, 1862, up to June 30, 1886, were $[illegible]. The aggregate receipts from internal revenue, remarked an officer of the treasury to-day, were sufficient to have paid the entire public debt at its highest figure, $2,756,431,[illegible], and leave a balance of $[illegible] if they had been applied to that purpose.

THE PRESIDENT RETURNS.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—The president and Mrs Cleveland, and members of the cabinet who accompanied him to Boston, returned to Washington at 4 this afternoon.

PRESIDENTIAL APPOINTMENT.

WASHINGTON, Nov 9.—The president yesterday appointed L. A. Manchester postmaster at Merced, Cal., vice S. A. Kling, resigned.

A LETTER FROM "JIM CUMMINGS."

He Says the Express Messenger is Innocent of the Recent Robbery.

ST. LOUIS, Nov 9.—The Globe-Democrat this morning prints a letter dated St. Joe, Mo., Oct 31, signed "Jim Cummings," which purports to give a full history of the robbery of the Adams express car on the San Francisco railroad on the night of Oct 25, when between $50,000 and $100,000 in currency was taken. The letter was received by the editor of the Globe-Democrat last Tuesday. It inclosed two express envelopes, from one of which $50,000 had been abstracted, and from the other $12,000, [illegible] the cashier of the Continental bank notifying the American National bank of this city that $[illegible] was inclosed.

The envelopes [illegible] identified [illegible]. The sender of the letter gives as a reason for writing that he wants to clear Fotheringham, the express messenger, from the suspicion which now attaches to him. The letter gives full particulars of the robbery and asserts that Fotheringham was completely taken by surprise and was no party to it. The letter stated that the robbers had a boat, which, together with a carpet [illegible], two guns and a box of provisions, they had secreted under a bridge at St. Charles, Missouri, and [illegible] the check stub at the Union depot this city on the [illegible] day of the robbery.

Following the directions given in the letter the [illegible] complicity in the robbery.

[illegible] INDICTED.

About 10 o'clock this morning [illegible] at the Southern hotel and [illegible] he was to be taken to the circuit court, where his habeas corpus case was to be tried. The detective was evidently under instructions to consume as much time as possible in driving to the [illegible]. When the carriage arrived at the circuit court a deputy sheriff [illegible] was then taken to [illegible] where he was locked up. A short time after the grand jury returned an indictment against him charging him with grand larceny and with receiving stolen property. Two other indictments were returned, one against Jim Cummings and one against Richard Roe.

Norristown Herald.

Here is an extract from a forthcoming novel, the scene of which is laid in New Jersey: "[illegible]" exclaimed Reginald bitterly, "you refuse me because you think I am still poor! THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

Another Statement by Knight of Labor Barry—A Long Struggle Threatened.

CHICAGO, Nov 9.—About 3000 men reported for work at the stock yards this morning. Everything is quiet and no disturbance of any kind has been reported to-day. The soldiers started on their rounds at 5 o'clock and patrolled the entire district. Most of the men who came to the yards were brought in by trains. There were no assaults on them as far as known.

BOLD TALK BY BARRY.

In conversation with a reporter to-night Delegate Barry said: "We have pitted our stomachs against the packers' bank accounts. I met Messrs Botsford, Hatley and Fowler in the board of trade this evening. They said that the press report of their determination to refuse employment to union men was correct. I appealed to their reason and sense of justice, but to no effect. They have thrown down the gauntlet and we accept the challenge. When I reported the result of the conference to the men they greeted it with rousing cheers. No more negotiations will be attempted on our part. We will carry the war into Egypt, and we have no [illegible] to win an honest [illegible]. By that I mean we will use the boycott [illegible] their houses wherever possible." Mr A. A. Carleton, newly elected member of the general executive board of the K. of L., is on his way to Chicago. "We are going to beat them in this fight. They can employ 30,000 [illegible]."

Knights of Labor say this evening that Master Workman Sylvester Gannon of the butchers' local assembly [illegible] but was expelled with J. B. Harper and T. J. Dillon, charged with treason to the order and violation of their obligations.

Firing occurred near the packing house of Morris & Healy at 1 o'clock between watchmen and unknown parties. Nine shots were fired. So far as can be learned no harm was done. No other incident had occurred up to midnight.

POWDERLY.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov 9.—General Master Workman Powderly, when questioned to-night as to a reported press report relative to the beef and pork butchers' strike at Chicago, simply said that A. A. Carleton, member of the general executive board, had been sent to that city to join Mr Barry. Powderly said he had no further information as to [illegible] regarding the Chicago trouble, that his knowledge of affairs there was obtained only through brief telegrams, and not being on the ground he would refrain from giving his views on the trouble.

A BIG SCHEME.

Plans for the Direct Connection of Scotland and the Western United States.

NEW YORK, Nov 9.—The Mail and Express says: "Recent transfer of valuable water front on Staten Island to a western railroad as a point for transfer is discussed by commercial men as a move of great significance. The property acquired is three plots covering a quarter of a mile of water front just below Vanderbilt landing, and also 300 acres of land in the interior. The purchases were made by F. D. Cornell, a prominent real estate agent of this city, from various local parties in the interest, it is said, of the Dukes of Devonshire and Buccleuch. These gentlemen are large owners of stock in the Anchor line of steamers, and own nearly all of Barrow in Furness, a point in Scotland to which shipments are destined to be made. The newly acquired water front is large enough to admit of extra docks and piers that will accommodate the largest ocean steamers afloat. The scheme is a big one, and if successful will establish direct connection between the great Northwest and Scotland, thus avoiding the expense of rehandling freights and heavy lighterage at this port. The one thing needful to perfect the project is the completion of a bridge across the Arthur Kill."

EASTERN NEWS ITEMS.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA IN INDIANA.

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov 9.—Gentlemen from Jasper and Clinton counties are in the city with a view to securing active measures to prevent the spread of pleuro-pneumonia, which has developed to an alarming extent in the last few days. They say that in their vicinity more than 3000 cattle are afflicted with the malady, which is incurable and which is rapidly spreading. Dr Navin, state veterinarian, has already ordered a number killed, and these gentlemen think that the state should pay for them, and wanted an official opinion from the attorney-general to that effect, but that official held a very different view. Two hundred sucking calves shipped from northern Ohio about three weeks ago were brought to Clinton county and 100 were sold there and sent to Illinois. Pleuro-pneumonia broke out among them, and two having been killed showed the disease unmistakably.

The board held a session at Frankford and examined the diseased cattle. One of the beasts was killed and a post mortem held in the presence of the board. The members united in an opinion that the disease is contagious and fatal, and recommend that all diseased cattle be killed and burned, and that farms where the cattle graze be quarantined for ninety days. Three farmers have already killed and burned sixty-seven calves. Three new cases were reported to-day.

LIBERTY STANDS IN THE DARK.

NEW YORK, Nov 9.—The Goddess of Liberty's torch has not been lighted since Saturday night. Whether it will be lighted at all again is an unsolved problem. The American committee has no funds for that purpose. Plans for lighting the statue by subscription or through personal contract with the engineers have come to little or nothing. Gen Schofield has called the attention of the war department to the lack of any funds for maintaining the beacon on Bedloe's island, and of any provision whatever for the statue. If any money can be diverted temporarily for that purpose by the war department the lighting will probably be resumed before long. If no funds can be had from Washington the goddess will have to wait. Gen Schofield thinks that unless a bill establishing a lighthouse on the island and an appropriation for maintaining it passes at the next session of congress her torch cannot be lighted again.

THE NATIONAL PRISON CONGRESS.

ATLANTA, Nov 9.—The national prison congress at its morning session discussed the question of moral and religious instruction of prisoners. At the afternoon session Rev T. H. Wines presented the report of a special committee appointed a year ago to consider the question of establishing a federal prison for violators of federal statutes. The report took strong ground in favor of federal prisons and approved the bill of Rev D. R. [illegible] of New York providing for the appointment of a commission to inquire into the subject. [illegible] was supported by Gen Brinkerhoff of Ohio, Warden Nicholson of Detroit, ex-Gov Bullock, [illegible] and Major McC[illegible]. The report was finally adopted without any dissenting votes.

DISASTROUS POWDER EXPLOSION.

MORRISTOWN, N. J., Nov 9.—An explosion in the drying house of the American Forcite Powder company at Lake Hopatcong at [illegible] o'clock this afternoon. It was shortly followed by the blowing up of two more mixing houses from which the workmen, upward of fifty in number, had escaped. Only five men were at work in the mixing house in which the first explosion occurred. David Havens was instantly killed and George Havens, Wm Stephenson, John Fancher and [illegible] Rice were badly wounded. Havens leaves a widow and five children.

LORD MAYOR'S SHOW.

The Day Passes without any Serious Conflict.

A GREAT CROWD OF SOCIALISTS

They Succeed in Holding a Meeting in Trafalgar Square but are Controlled by the Police—The Lord Mayor's Banquet.

LONDON, Nov 9.—Lord mayor's day opened gloomy and dark. There are few signs in the city to indicate that this is the day for the lord mayor's show. The display of bunting and decoration usually made on this occasion is almost generally omitted and the authorities and populace seem imbued with a sense of oppression. This condition is due to anxiety for the result of the threatened gathering of socialists. The police have made all possible arrangements for resisting any attempts at disorder.

At an early hour shoals of roughs began to emerge from the slums and take their way towards the section where the socialists have arranged to assemble. Bands of [illegible] proceeding to different points received hearty cheers from the people in the streets.

The city in the West End presents a remarkable appearance. All the shutters of shops are drawn and barricaded and iron railings are boarded with stout timbers. Banks and other buildings are secured in a similar manner. These precautions are not confined to buildings on the route of the lord mayor's procession, but extend to streets far beyond. Police and reserves have been posted at prominent points, and a large military force and all the household troops are in readiness if their assistance is needed.

At 11 o'clock a force proceeded to the north side of Trafalgar square. Shops in the vicinity are closed and all the doors and windows of jewelry establishments heavily barred. Hundreds of students armed with sticks have gathered about the square. A crowd of [illegible] arrived and were allowed to proceed to the entrance of the square. There they were met by a cordon of police and turned up the Strand. Mounted police cleared the roadway.

The throng at Trafalgar square is increasing to vast proportions. The police keep admirable order.

A SLIGHT ENCOUNTER.

A trifling encounter occurred in Trafalgar square about noon. A mob about 800 strong and [illegible] was halted by the police and [illegible]. The police then cleared the square and pushed the crowd toward the Thames embankment. There the mob halted and hooted and groaned at the officers. Three hundred medical students marching five abreast and armed with bludgeons proceeded along the Strand to aid the police.

The Life Guards in passing through Victoria street were saluted with groans by a small knot of roughs.

Two socialists called upon Sir Charles Warren to-day and requested an answer to their letter of yesterday inquiring why the proposed socialist demonstrations had been prohibited. Sir Charles referred them to his proclamation.

The procession started at the usual hour and proceeded over the designated route without anything happening beyond the usual horse play incident to the occasion. The police dispersed the medical students and refused to allow them to occupy Trafalgar square. One thousand policemen were posted at the square. The Scotch Guards were clustered in St. George's barracks behind the National gallery.

The crowd about Trafalgar square at 1 o'clock had grown colossal, the rough element predominating. Accessions were constantly arriving. Police lined the streets converging on the square. They also surrounded the square and refused to permit any one to enter. Efforts were made to keep the crowd moving as far as it was possible.

At 1:30 P. M. it is reported that the socialists will attempt to hold a meeting at 2 o'clock. If they do it is now certain that the police will be ordered to prevent the meeting at any cost.

A MEETING HELD.

When the procession passed Trafalgar square it met with no demonstration on the part of the crowds except unorganized cheering and hooting, the latter being especially directed at the lord mayor. After the show had gone by the mob at once surged over into the square and soon formed a dense throng about the Nelson monument. A number of men mounted the pedestal at different periods. Some of these waved red flags. The square soon became a scene of excitement. Recognized socialist leaders managed here and there to gather round them groups of men ready and willing to listen to speeches. In this way the vast crowd was soon divided up into numberless excited groups, each stirred up by its own spokesmen and all independently noisy and excited. The police did not attempt to interfere with the rush of the mob into the square but formed a strong cordon around it.

Among the speakers who addressed the groups was Williams, the socialist leader. He declared that the populace would show that they could hold an orderly meeting to let the public know about the distress which at present existed among the workingmen of England.

FOOD AND WORK DEMANDED.

Another speaker said: "All the power of the country was invoked to prevent us from assembling. Our reply to all this is that we are here. We want food, work and dwelling places for all, and we will have them. Resolutions of a proper kind will be adopted and they will be sent to the Marquis of Salisbury and to Lord Randolph Churchill, and they will be compelled to listen to them. The socialists will continue their work until every vestige of tyranny shall be swept away. Our organization is the only one which dare to take a proper position on behalf of the poor and oppressed. We are here to agitate in a peaceful manner for work for all and overwork for none."

Resolutions asking the government to provide work for the unemployed and to reduce to eight the number of hours constituting a day's work were carried amid loud cheering, and the group which adopted them and which had by this time absorbed nearly all the multitude remaining in the square dispersed cheering for promises of social revolution. Most of the people who had composed this audience at once went away.

THE SQUARE CLEARED.

Most of the people who had composed this audience at once went away. Others loitered about and joined various throngs. A number of anti-socialists attempted to hold a counter demonstration in Trafalgar square. They were attacked and roughly handled by their opponents and driven from the scene. The police and life guards interfered and cleared the square. The work was not difficult and but one arrest was made. A section of the crowd went from the square to the residence of the Marquis of Salisbury and attempted to [illegible] a demonstration. They were however dispersed easily by the police.

A SPEECH BY LORD SALISBURY.

LONDON, Nov 9.—Lord Salisbury, at the lord mayor's banquet, said the government was encouraged by growing proofs of advancing prosperity in Egypt. Her finances were more promising than they had ever been, although they had not reached a point that would enable the government [illegible] its task fulfilled. EXTRADITION PROCEEDINGS.

TORONTO, Nov 9.—Extradition proceedings were commenced this morning against John A. [illegible], charged with forging and uttering bills of exchange on the Merchants' National bank of Peoria, Ills.

MONTREAL, Nov 9.—Sheriff Hitchcock arrived here to-day from Washington with the president's warrant for John F. Hoke's extradition. In case of any possible defect in the original warrant for Hoke's arrest a second warrant has been issued and served at the instance of Assistant Cashier Ely of the Merchants' National bank of Peoria.

SUSPENDED PAYMENT.

MONTREAL, Nov 9.—Richard T. Mardon, boot and shoe manufacturer, has suspended payment. Liabilities about $75,000. The estate shows a surplus of from $12,000 to $18,000.

The epicure's delight: Ghirardelli's Vanilla Chocolate. Superior to the best imported.

THE EASTERN QUESTION.

A Gloomy View of the Situation—Force Likely to Succeed Diplomacy.

NEW YORK, Nov 9.—Thomas Power O'Connor cables from Liverpool to the Star: Things have taken a bad turn in the East. Dispatches from European capitals give a more gloomy view of the situation than at any time since the deposition of Prince Alexander. The failure of Russia at Bourgas discredits her diplomacy, enrages the military party and is regarded as an affront to the czar. It was confidently believed in St Petersburg that the signal of revolt at Bourgas would be followed by a general rising throughout Bulgaria and Eastern Roumelia against the existing regime, and that the authorities would be cowed into surrender. Instead of that people are being called to arms, a state of siege is proclaimed and Russian sympathizers in open defiance of Kaulbars's threats have been imprisoned.

Everything seems to point to a speedy termination of the interregnum of inaction and the commencement of active measures for assertion of Russian supremacy in the Balkan states. Even the faithful Berlin press, hitherto so zealous in the cause of peace and so sanguine of Bismarck's [illegible] influence, is forced to declare at last that the tranquillity of Europe is seriously menaced.

The London press views the new situation from varying standpoints. The Times alone calls for [illegible]. The Standard is disposed to despair of effective action on the Bulgarian side. The Daily News, while friendly to Bulgarian independence, condemns the tendency of tory cabinets to entangle the empire in continuous squabbles.

THE ANGLO-AUSTRIAN AGREEMENT.

LONDON, Nov 9.—The Chronicle's Vienna correspondent hears of an Anglo-Austrian agreement based upon Austria's accepting the occupation of Bulgaria by Russia as a casus belli. Russia therefore, the correspondent says, has given assurances that she has no intention of even partially occupying Bulgaria.

It is reported that Gen Kaulbars is suffering from nervous excitement and has had apoplectic fits.

RUSSIAN PLOTTERS ARRESTED.

SOFIA, Nov 9.—Russian partisans at Slivnitza, led by officers, made an attempt to incite a rising to-day. The authorities, who had been previously warned, suppressed the attempt and arrested the plotters.

ANOTHER THREAT.

TIRNOVA, Nov 9.—Gen. Kaulbars threatens to occupy the telegraph office at Bourgas unless the telegraph communication with the Russian consul there is restored.

[illegible] TO BE RELEASED.

LONDON, Nov 9.—The Bulgarian government has consented to release the Russian Captain Nabokoff, leader of the revolt at Bourgas.

ENGLAND.

GRIEF FOR ARCHER'S DEATH.

LONDON, Oct 9.—Newspapers all publish articles deploring the untimely end of Archer. The Times says: "His pitiful death will cause a shock of pain even to the most callous among the multitude in whom it is to be feared the gambling passion has almost extinguished feeling."

The Sporting Life says: "Words fail to express our deep regret at the death of the world famed jockey Archer. We are certain this feeling will find echo in the hearts of myriad of men not only in this country but also in others where his name is a household word. Wherever the English tongue is spoken Archer is a familiar word."

The Prince of Wales has sent a telegram of condolence to the dead jockey's sister.

LONDON, Nov 9.—At the inquest in the case of Fred Archer to-day it was proved that Archer had sustained no losses in betting, and that the cause of his derangement was typhoid fever, aggravated by weakness due to the restricted regime which he had adopted in order to reduce his weight. A verdict of suicide while insane was rendered. It is reported that Archer leaves [illegible].

RACING AT LIVERPOOL.

LONDON, Nov 9.—The Liverpool autumn meeting began to-day. The race for the Knowsley nursery stakes for two-year-olds, about five furlongs, was won by A. B. Carr's colt Quicksand by three quarters of a length, Mr Hungerford's Pierrepont second, Mr Melville's Horton third. There were nine starters. Time 1:05.

HANLAN QUITS FOR THE SEASON.

LONDON, Nov 9.—Hanlan has decided to row no more races in England during the present season. Ross and Lee have accordingly abandoned the idea of a match with Hanlan and Teneycke.

FRANCE.

A DENIAL FROM CLERGYMEN.

PARIS, Nov 9.—The principal English and American clergymen here and many well known French protestant divines have signed a protest denying the truth of statements alleged to be published in America in regard to the manner of conducting young ladies' schools here. They declare the statements are liable to libel, and assert that their schools are as pure and healthy in tone as any in England or America, and their own daughters are educated in them.

GERMANY.

CABLE NOTES.

BERLIN, Nov 9.—It is learned that laborers arrested at Buckau are charged with concealing and distributing dynamite.

Seven persons were burned to death in a barn at Fussdorf, Moravia, to-day. Sixteen others are missing and are supposed to be dead.

AFRICA.

AN EXPLORER MURDERED.

VIENNA, Nov 9.—Zambesi advices say that the Austrian explorer Hinklemann was captured and murdered by a native chief. The chief had Hinklemann's ears amputated and his heart cut out and presented them to the oldest of the tribe. Hinklemann's companion, a young Englishman, contrived to escape.

IRELAND.

FARMERS PREVENT HUNTING.

DUBLIN, Nov 9.—Two hundred farmers to-day tried to prevent the Galway Blazers hunt. With police assistance the hunters were enabled to start, but they soon met with formidable opposition and were compelled to withdraw their hounds.

CRIMINAL CALENDAR.

The Case of the Alleged Bogus Pension Claimant.

NEW YORK, Nov 9.—Examination in the case of Charles George Curtis, who claims to be Sir Roger Tichborne, upon a charge of being a bogus pension claimant was begun before U. S. Commissioner Benedict in Brooklyn. James N. Ward, chief law clerk of the pension department at Washington, testified that he made the complaint and was present at the time of arrest. A copy of the original discharge of Charles Curtis, which is on file in the second auditor's office at Washington, was placed in evidence. It recites that Charles Curtis was a private of company F, One Hundred and Sixth New York volunteer infantry, and enlisted on May [illegible], 1860, to serve three years or during the war. He was discharged from service on June 17, 1865, by reason of the muster out of the detachment. Mr Thomas Ormsby, who knew the heir of the Tichborne estates, visited the U. S. courts and saw Curtis and Charles Orton, who happened also to be in the building. Mr Ormsby said subsequently that he failed to recognize either of the two men as the missing heir. The lawyer for the accused is confident of proving that his client is Charles Curtis.

PURSUING A DESPERATE MURDERER.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov 9.—A special to the Democrat from Yazoo City says: A letter from Tchula reports a terrible shooting affair [illegible] yesterday. Marshal Vantry McBee attacked [illegible] and severely wounded him. Later in the day he attacked another and still later a third. He then jumped on his horse and rode away, but after going two miles went back to Tchula, where he began to drink and flourish a pistol. He finally [illegible] a negro who has since died. McBee [illegible]. The sheriff and four [illegible] in pursuit. McBee is accompanied by [illegible]. They are armed with six or eight [illegible] and shotguns, and it is reported they have [illegible] will not be taken alive.

"INSURRECTION" SUPPRESSED.

[illegible], Nov 9.—A special to the News from [illegible], Texas, says: The sheriff's posse [illegible] which went to Graball last night to suppress [illegible] insurrection returned this evening. [illegible] that no further danger is feared. The [illegible] arose over a meeting of white men [illegible] for the purpose of discussing the [illegible] of doing away with colored labor [illegible]. The negroes learned of the meeting and [illegible] became alarmed. Eight negroes imprisoned here for connection with the assassination of Harvey Bolton on election night were removed to Houston to-night for safe keeping, as the authorities had received information that a mob intended to lynch them.

A YOUNG BROKER ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, Nov 9.—A dispatch from the Boston police to-day asked Inspector Byrnes to arrest Robert J. Fabraham, a young broker now here, on a charge of embezzlement [illegible]. Fabraham was arrested. Notes [illegible] certificates amounting to several thousand dollars and business cards of Robert [illegible] & Co., brokers at No. 28 Congress street, Boston, were found on the person of the prisoner.

A DEADLY DUEL OVER CARDS.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov 9.—A special to the Picayune from Shreveport reports a shocking affray in [illegible] parish, in which a man named Phillips was killed and one named Smith mortally wounded. The men fought with revolvers, nine shots being fired, all of which took effect. The difficulty which led to the fight arose over a game of cards.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

WICHITA, Ks., Nov 9.—A special to the Eagle states that Samuel Purple, who lived nine miles east of Jetmore, Kansas, a remote district, killed his wife and two children last Friday morning. After committing the crime he delivered himself up to the sheriff. Saturday night he was taken back to his house and hanged to a tree.

A Prominent Sheep-Owner Killed by a Horse-Thief.

A THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury in the Corker Murder Case—One Man Killed and Another Critically Wounded.

THE DALLES, Nov 9.—Yesterday afternoon Roderick Grant was murdered at Antelope by a horse thief whom he found in possession of a horse stolen from Grant's brother October 27. After Grant recognized the horse the man said he would go down to Durbin's with Mr. Grant and take him out to Fossil and have the man arrested who traded the animal. After arriving at Durbin's, while Mr. Grant was in the sheep corral, the man attempted to run and he took after him on horseback, heading him off. The man pulled a pistol and fired a shot at Grant. The latter began to dismount and was in the act of stepping down from the horse when the thief fired another shot, striking Grant in the mouth and killing him instantly. Mr Grant was a large sheep owner and a highly respected citizen. The neighborhood is greatly excited and hunting the murderer in every direction. There is $500 reward offered for his capture. Description: Five feet eight inches tall, short beard, two weeks' growth, red hair, upper front teeth broken, name not known.

THANKSGIVING PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

SALEM, Nov 9.—Gov. Moody to-day issued the following proclamation:

In accordance with a custom established by our forefathers, of setting apart one day in the year in remembrance of the blessings vouchsafed by the Divine Ruler, and in conformity with the recommendation of the president of the United States, I hereby designate Thursday, November 25, 1886, as a day of praise and thanksgiving. And I recommend that upon that day the people of the state desist from their usual avocations and repair to their respective places of worship and give thanks to the ruler of the universe for the blessings of the past.

I would further recommend, as a fitting observance of the day, that out of our abundance we remember the poor and the destitute among us, and that by deeds of mercy and charity we make it an occasion of comfort and happiness to them.

Witness my hand and the great seal of the state of Oregon hereto attached this [illegible] day of November, A. D. 1886.

Z. F. MOODY, Governor.

By the Governor:
R. P. EARHART, Secretary of State.

THE CORKER MURDER.

The Coroner's Jury Believes that R. E. Marple Committed the Horrible Deed.

LAFAYETTE, Nov 9.—The coroner's jury in the Corker murder case concluded their investigation this afternoon after being in session one week. The following is the verdict of the jury:

We, the jury summoned by D. C. Narver, coroner of Yamhill county, to investigate the cause of the death of D. J. Corker, find that he was murdered on the night between November 1 and 2, in his bedroom in the rear of his store in Lafayette, Yamhill county, Oregon, with an ax, and after thorough examination have good reason to believe that said murder was committed by one R. E. Marple.

F. P. Gates, J. H. Olds, R. R. Daniels, George W. Perkins, J. L. Ferguson and Joseph Hoberg composed the jury.

Many believe that Marple will be lynched.

CALIFORNIA.

COL. PARKER AND HIS ENEMIES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov 9.—The Examiner's Washington special says: A Washington dispatch sent some days ago that Col. Frank Parker, of Walla Walla, would probably be appointed receiver of the land office at that place appears to have created something of a sensation among different candidates for public offices throughout the territory. Secretary Lamar said to-night that he had received a number of letters and telegrams during the last few days, many of which reflected upon Parker's integrity, and protesting against his appointment. Lamar says Parker's endorsements are of so high a character as to warrant the president giving him any position within his gift, and yet if those opposed to Parker are to be believed he ought to be imprisoned in the penitentiary for life.

MURDERED FOR HIS MONEY.

SHASTA, Nov 9.—Patrick Cronin, a resident of Lewiston, Trinity county, for over thirty years, is missing. His friends, alarmed at his non-appearance for several days, went to his cabin, which was found rifled. Men have been searching the mountains and dragging the river, but as yet no trace of the missing man has been found. The supposition is that he was murdered for the money he was thought to keep in his cabin. The sheriff went out yesterday to investigate.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

THE DISASTER ON THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

VICTORIA, Nov 9.—Further particulars from Rogers Pass prove that the accident at that point on the Canadian Pacific railroad was fully as serious as represented. The runaway cars struck the locomotive while going sixty miles an hour. The engineer was instantly killed. McRae, foreman, was caught in the debris, and a mule also caught by the fore legs kicked viciously, hitting McRae in the head, knocking his brains out. Mrs. McRae had her left leg severed, and was otherwise injured. Her two infant children were thrown twenty feet and are unharmed. She will probably die. Two other men were killed, while many were more or less injured. The cars were completely shattered and the engine badly damaged.

While Henry W. Bateson and Charles Atherton were hunting at Harrison lake on Sunday last, the latter turned his gun accidentally toward his companion when it was discharged, the charge lodging in the stomach of Bateson, from which he shortly after died.

NEVADA.

ONE MAN KILLED AND ANOTHER DYING.

EUREKA, Nov 9.—The fact has just been learned here that on the 2d instant a miner named Patrick O'Brien was killed by John Reid at Reveille, Nye county. Reid was generally known as "Scotty," and recently arrived from Sonora and Arizona. O'Brien, having had trouble with a deputy sheriff, was looking for the deputy with a shotgun, when "Scotty," to avoid trouble, took the gun from him. O'Brien started for "Scotty" with a dirk knife, and when within a few paces "Scotty" fired, the shot taking effect in the breast. O'Brien then stabbed "Scotty" twice, once in the bowels and once in the ribs. O'Brien died in a few minutes. "Scotty" is in a precarious condition. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of justifiable homicide.

IDAHO.

RATIFICATION MEETING AT MOSCOW.

MOSCOW, Nov 9.—An enthusiastic meeting was held here last night, ratifying the election of Hon. Fred T. DuBois as delegate to congress, at which the strongest of annexation sentiment was expressed, as might be expected from a town of whose 400 votes all but two were for annexation to Washington. Mr DuBois was present and most naturally enjoyed the universal good feeling. He leaves to-morrow morning for South Idaho.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

THE VOTE IN CHEHALIS COUNTY.

OLYMPIA, Nov 9.—Official returns from Chehalis county: Bradshaw 604, Voorhees 399; prosecuting attorney, Moody 100 majority; council, Gowey 438, Goodell 559; representative, Waman 615, Van Cleve 435. The republicans elect the sheriff, one commissioner, assessor and wreckmaster. Total vote 1047. Newell received 74.

KILLED BY MEXICANS.

A Party of Americans Attacked and Three Men Killed in the Fight.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 9.—Hewlitt Griner, one of the most extensive ranchmen in Western Texas, was killed last night at Los Vicos, Mexico, just across the river from Del Rio, Texas. Griner lived with his family at Uvalde and had gone over into Mexico with several employes, to see about the condition of stock on a ranch he owns there. Some time ago he had difficulty with some Mexicans living adjoining to his hacienda and the natives at that time threatened to kill him if he again appeared in their midst. Yesterday the Americans were attacked by Mexicans and a pitched battle ensued. Griner's body was riddled with bullets and one of his men was also killed. F. B. McMahan, who was one of Griner's party, succeeded in killing one of the Mexicans and the surviving Americans made their escape to this side of the river, under a volley of bullets from the Winchesters of the Mexicans. Americans along the border are greatly incensed and declare they will have vengeance.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

SAN ANTONIO, Nov 9.—Information reached here to-day of a serious fight in the state of Coahuila, Mexico, opposite the Texas town of Del Rio, between half a dozen Americans and a band of Mexicans. Hewlett Griner, an extensive rancher, and John Weaver, one of his employes, were killed. Four other Americans retreated across the river under fire after killing a couple of Mexicans. The fight was the outgrowth of a family quarrel between Griner and Mexican relatives of his brother's widow. The killing of Griner causes great excitement on the border, where he was a prominent man. His body has not been recovered.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, NOV. 10, 1886.

A SIMPLE LAW.

All mountains are mountains and all men are men; but the Almighty has no more made all men equal in their powers than he has made all mountains as high as Mount Hood. In their natural and legal rights all men are equal, or ought to be; and in this country of ours the same opportunities are open to all. Great success is usually the result of great talents. The poor and unknown boy of twenty-five years ago is the man of wealth or eminence to-day. Likewise many a poor and unknown boy of to-day will be the man of wealth or eminence twenty-five years hence. Success, in highest degree, is usually a result of the use of special powers with which one is endowed; and it is as useless for a man to complain that he has been unable to make money on the scale that Stewart or Vanderbilt did as it would be to complain that he lacks the capacity to deliver a speech with the power of Demosthenes or to write a tragedy with the power of Shakespeare.

And, since the greatest prizes go as rewards to greatest powers, so the ordinary prizes go by a law as unerring to those who have wrought hardest for them. There are exceptions, indeed, but this is the rule. It is no scheme of chance that gives fair success to the intelligent and industrious, and denies it to the ignorant, profligate and indolent. There are those who never do and never will pursue the business of life on any earnest and intelligent plan. Can they hope in reason for the prizes that nothing but adherence to an intelligent and steadfast purpose will secure? There are those who will not deny themselves personal pleasure to save money. How are they at last to have the money that can be accumulated only by such denial?

Sometimes, indeed, the prizes of life seem to be distributed by the caprice of fortune, and many a man has suffered his spirit to become embittered by the fact that he is obliged to toil for small earnings while another, certainly no better than himself, lives in ease and luxury. But is there any inequality here that legislation can cure? It is as idle to repine at this as to complain that a drouth has impoverished our county, while the next county has escaped; or that a good man has been cut off in his prime by disease or accident, while a scoundrel has been permitted to live in health and prosperity to old age. These inequalities are everywhere apparent; they are inseparable from human life. Fire may destroy in an hour the work of a lifetime; but should the unfortunate man envy his neighbor whose property remains whole?

Over and above all things that men call misfortune, ill luck or unequal advantages or successes in life, one rule holds sway, and that rule is this, viz.: Intelligent, calculated and sustained effort may be expected to win, and absence of it may be expected to lose. This natural law is the law that man ought to study and observe, since observance of it will beat all the expedients and contrivances of so-called labor philosophy and the statutory legislation which that philosophy may suggest.

FRAUD IN SALMON.

In the United States district court yesterday, upon application of W. T. Coleman & Co., an injunction was issued to prevent the shipment from Astoria of a certain lot of salmon in cans falsely labeled with the name of Coleman & Co. as agents. The fish in question is inferior, the product of the fall catch at Tillamook bay, and an effort is being made to put it upon the market as "fresh Columbia river salmon," the name of Coleman & Co., who are large shippers of genuine Columbia river salmon, being added as a sort of attest of excellence. The fraud was discovered by Mr. McGovern, the agent of Coleman & Co at Astoria, who lost no time in securing an order to stop the shipment, which was to have been made to-day.

This is the first protest coming to our notice, on the part of anybody connected with salmon packing or shipping, against a practice which is likely to damage greatly, if it does not utterly ruin, our salmon interest. Great quantities of worthless fish of the summer and fall runs in the Columbia river and in various bays along the coast have been put up this year and sent out under false labels. In most cases packers have not scrupled to label this inferior fish as genuine Columbia river salmon, but a few of them have compromised with their consciences by labeling their product "Columbia river salmon," or simply "Oregon salmon." In either case there has been the intent to deceive and to market the worthless fall fish upon the reputation of the genuine spring salmon. So great is the quantity of fall fish thus put upon the market within the past few weeks that it has reduced the price of the genuine fish about 15 cents per dozen or 60 cents per case, not more through increase of the general stock than by creating widespread distrust of fraud.

It goes without saying that this practice will be fatal to the salmon interest. In a single season it has destroyed commercial confidence in Columbia river brands and wiped out the premium which until now they have always commanded. If continued another season, or two at most, the feeling of distrust will reach consumers and greatly limit or utterly destroy the market for canned salmon of any kind. A consumer once deceived into eating unclean and diseased fish is likely to dismiss salmon from his bill of fare, since the very thought of it becomes thereafter a nauseating thing. The gross dishonesty of this practice is a thing to shock decent men, but aside from all considerations of morality it is a species of greed which will soon overreach itself and recoil on those who engage in it, by the destruction of their business. If they alone were to suffer the penalties, there would be little reason to complain, but in harming them it will harm the whole public by ruining a great branch of productive industry.

The protest of Coleman & Co. ought to be the signal for organization on the part of honest packers against those greedy men who are ruining the salmon industry. The moral effect of such an organization would go far to bring about a reform. Packers would hesitate to engage in a practice regarded openly by other packers as contemptible and dishonest. Organization would compel all packers to take one side or the other, and would shame many into better conduct. It would assist in enforcing the laws, and would lead naturally to protection of the salmon interest in many ways. There ought by all means to be an organization of the packers to protect their own and the public interest, and the leading men in the business ought to bring it about without delay.

In 1884 Tacoma gave Armstrong, republican and railroad candidate, a majority of 1591 votes. In the recent election it gave Bradshaw about 200 majority. Here is a falling off of 1400 votes in two years. The fact is interesting and instructive. It illustrates not a change in political sentiment but a change in feeling as regards the Northern Pacific railroad. It is evident that the people of Tacoma are beginning to understand that being a "railroad town" isn't all it was cracked up to be. They find that it involves the subordination in all things of the public to a private interest. Proprietary government is not in accord with the American idea. Under all circumstances it is resented, and especially when to the spirit of domination it adds gross selfishness.

There are unhappy omens of division in the democratic party, growing out of the continued refusal of Mrs. Cleveland to "recognize" the daughter of Jefferson Davis. The Pittsburg Dispatch puts in this suggestion, which it may be hoped will be the means of restoring peace to a distracted party:

> The thought that Miss Winnie Davis can be taken out of politics by a timely marriage induces an earnest call for the enterprising man who will step forward and clasp hands across the chasm.

A telegraph report says the president's weight is greater by fifty pounds than when he took office in March, 1885. A democratic brother here, who has been waiting for something nearly two years, says that the president with all his weight doesn't sit down as hard on republican office-holders as a much lighter man might.

EDUCATION AND MORALS.

The session of the prison congress at Atlanta reminds us that the most dangerous and irreclaimable criminal is not the ignorant, demoralized social pirate, but your intelligent, unmoral man; that is, the man who was never "demoralized," because he had an original moral vacancy; a fellow who is well born, well bred, well educated, but has a natural bias toward crime from youth. He is always a liar, a petty thief at school; he seems to discredit the popular notion that there is any connection between good morals and good opportunities in the shape of sound schooling, good parents, and happy, friendly early surroundings. The poet Bryant used to denounce Edgar A. Poe as an unmoral man; a man who seemed from his earliest boyhood to have been destitute of moral sense, social honor, manhood of any sort. In Australia there died a year ago, as a convict, a man who had been a lifelong criminal. From early youth he had been a great student and a reader of sterling books. Dime novels did not exist when he began his career of crime, and he had a sincere contempt for literary trash. He was an excellent linguist, a good naturalist, an expert engineer and a very fair lawyer. He was fond of science, especially comparative anatomy. His favorite authors were Humboldt, Darwin, Huxley, Spencer and Mill. His knowledge of history was remarkable, and while in prison, as he was several times, he spent most of his time writing biographies, which he sold for more money than the author could make by engaging in any kind of labor. He was a great favorite with the warden, surgeon and chaplain of every prison in which he was confined. His knowledge of men was excellent, and he was often consulted about the management of convicts. He was a most entertaining companion, and on that account his society was sought by the prison officials. Such accomplished rascals are more common in Europe than in America, and yet from the days of Stephen Burroughs, whose father was a clergyman, we have not been without well born and well educated scoundrels. Bernstein, one of the inmates of the Albany penitentiary, is of noble blood, a graduate of Heidelburg university, speaks six languages, served in our civil war as a surgeon, and later on the staff of Bellevue hospital; he was once the New York Herald's correspondent in China, an interpreter in San Francisco, a politician and coroner in Chicago, and finally a gambler, a forger and a jail bird. Brockway, the celebrated forger and counterfeiter, is a graduate of the Yale college scientific department, and Gray, another famous swindler, is a college graduate and the son of a clergyman. Adolph Plec, a notorious Chicago thief, is a finely educated man; an excellent scholar in all modern languages and also wrote Sanscrit and Hebrew, and although a German, could write clear, concise, pure English. It is but a few years ago that a man was hung for murder in Central New York who was a very learned and able philologist who had turned burglar. Ross Raymond, a New York forger, bigamist and swindler, is a finely educated man and a very bright and rapid writer for the press. He can make a fine income with his pen and has no earthly reason, except innate depravity, to be a rascal. J. A. L. Whittier, a graduate of a New England college, has just been sent to Massachusetts' state prison for three years for embezzling a large sum of money, about $125,000, from his wife's aunt, for whom he acted as trustee. He nominally put it out at interest and applied it to his own use, paying the interest out of the stolen principal. George the Fourth of England was charged with swindling on the race course and cheating at play. The play of "Jim the Penman" celebrates the career of an English criminal, James Townshend Saward. He was a man of good family, received a university education, studied law, was called to the bar and exhibited great capacity in his profession. A man of splendid attainments and unusual intellect, he deliberately without any financial pressure adopted the career of a professional forger. He was so able and cunning that he escaped arrest until he was 58 years old, and then only fell into the hands of the law through the stupidity of a confederate. Michael Davitt, who was a political prisoner for nearly ten years in the various English jails, gives an interesting description of this tribe of intellectual, irreclaimable convicts in his "Leaves from a Prison Diary." One of these educated thieves defended his career to Davitt as follows: "The laws of society are framed for the purpose of securing the wealth of the world to power and calculation. Why should they punish me for taking by somewhat similar means from those who have taken more than they had a right to? I deny your contention that there is any such thing as honesty in the world at all." This man delighted in literary discussion, could quote from Pope's Iliad, had read Pascal and Lafontaine in the original. He soberly argued that "thieving was an honorable pursuit; that religion, law, patriotism and bodily disease were the real and only enemies of humanity. Religion robbed the soul of its independence; law, in restraining the desires and faculties given to us by nature for the purpose of gratification, declared war against the manifest spirit of the law of our being, while patriotism was the idolatry of an idea, in stupid worship of which the peace of the world and the well being of its people were sacrificed by the law makers and others who profit thereby. All men were but superior animals and all who warred against the laws which denied to man the gratification of his natural appetites were engaged in an honorable pursuit." Well behaved in prison, these intelligent scoundrels never reform. Their ranks are recruited from ex-schoolmasters, broken-down tutors, spoiled ministers and dissipated lawyers. Among the criminals described by Davitt was the son of a distinguished Russian, who had been to Oxford; had been a surgeon in the English navy; he had a marvelous command of languages; spoke English with faultless pronunciation, conversed with equal facility in French, German and Italian, and had a good knowledge of the Danish, Swedish and Polish tongues. He was well read in English literature and as well bred as the ordinary college educated Englishman, and he was a robber who had spent twenty-seven years for crime in the various English prisons. He was a man of such unusual talents and learning that he had only to be honest to have been a shining success in the world.

Engravers who turn counterfeiters can earn easily by honest work from $3500 to $7000 a year, and yet on both sides of the water it is the experience of prison officials that not 2 per cent. of the intellectual, educated criminal class ever reform. A child born in ignorance, vice and intemperance sometimes rises superior to its early traditions and circumstances, but the well-born, well-bred, well-educated rascal seldom reforms, because he sins not for lack of light, but in spite of light, and desperate choice of a criminal career is made with a cool deliberation that is the characteristic of a conscienceless creature, a man not demoralized, not with a moral sense stunted for lack of development and stimulus, but a man with an absolute moral vacancy; a man upon whom all the stimulus of education and example has been exhausted in vain.

Democratic papers of the East, in their comment on the magnitude of the labor vote in New York, Chicago, Milwaukee and other cities, confess that this vote promises to withdraw more strength from the democratic party in 1888 that the prohibition vote is likely to withdraw from the republicans.

While Morrison and Hurd were defeated for congress, and Carlisle and Springer had a close run, Randall was re-elected by 11,279 majority. Randall could have afforded to spare some of that vote to pull his free trade brethren through.

In Wisconsin the labor vote last Tuesday was about 20,000. A strong effort will be made to strengthen the Knights of Labor in the state, so as to make sure of still greater results in the future elections.

In a recent article concerning Gen. Charles P. Stone THE OREGONIAN said:

> Among the officers who were stationed at Fort Lafayette during Stone's confinement, from February to August, 1862, was Lieut. E. M. Coates, of the Twelfth infantry, now Capt. Coates, of the Fourth infantry, and at present in command of the military post at Cœur d'Alene. Meeting Stone in New York several years after the war, Coates asked him what conclusion he reached to explain McClellan's arrest and imprisonment of him, and persistent deafness to his request for a trial. Stone answered that he was forced to the conclusion that McClellan deliberately made a scape goat of him for Ball's Bluff and refused him any chance for a hearing because he knew that an investigation would vindicate Stone and disgrace McClellan.

Capt. Coates writes that he called with a friend on Gen. Stone some twenty years ago at his hotel in New York city, as described above; that not he but his friend, who strongly sympathized with Stone, said: "General, I should like to ask if you do not think that Gen. McClellan treated you badly in the matter and manner of your arrest and confinement?" Gen. Stone replied: "That is a matter I do not care to talk about. All I can say is that if I was in command of an army, and the commander of one of the wings of that army was arrested and confined I should insist on his having a hearing."

ARRESTED FOR ABDUCTION.

A Young Villain Induces Two Girls to Accompany Him to New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9.—Alfred Gallis, a red-handed, hardy man, arrived in New York last evening by rail from his home in Oakland, Cal., and at once put out for police headquarters. He told Inspector Steers that his daughter Marcella, who is a few months over 11 years of age, had run away from San Francisco with another girl, Mamie Murray, a year older than she is, and with Frank Dunham, who is 26 years old and has a wife and children somewhere east. The three left San Francisco on October 3 by the Pacific Mail company's steamer, bound for New York by way of Panama. Gallis started across the continent to intercept them. The police found that among her passengers from San Francisco were Joseph Reed, wife and sister. They easily traced them to the Sheridan house, 159 Canal street, and the wife and sister proved to be the runaway girls. They were taken care of by the police headquarters matron. Reed proved to be Dunham, and was arrested on a charge of abduction.

Dunham was arraigned in the police court, and was remanded till a requisition for him can be received from the governor of California. He said he had met the girls on the street at the Grand Army celebration, and that when he asked them to come to New York with him they agreed without any persuasion. The girls were given to charge of the society for prevention of cruelty to children.

A Democratic Reminder.

Attorney-General Garland has confirmed the World's judicial opinion that called 3 per cent bonds will not meet the requirement of "interest-bearing securities" as the basis of national bank circulation. Mr. Garland may not remember our other opinion, that a Pan-Electric statesman does not meet the requirements of a cabinet officer in a reform democratic administration, but we regard this as equally sound.

A Cure of Pneumonia.

Mr. D. H. Barnaby, of Oswego, N. Y., says that his daughter was taken with a violent cold which terminated with Pneumonia, and all the best physicians gave the case up and said she could live but a few hours at most. She was in this condition when a friend recommended DR. WM. HALL'S BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS, and advised her to try it. She accepted it as a last resort, and was surprised to find that it produced a marked change for the better and by persevering in its use a cure was effected.

Chamber's Journal has discovered that a joint of meat may be preserved for many days by wrapping it loosely in a fine cloth rung out of vinegar and hanging it in a draught of air.

IN PORTLAND!

THE CELEBRATED SPECIALIST,

Dr. Mintie,

Of San Francisco.

Is in Portland, and will remain for a short time. Dr. Mintie is well known over the Pacific Coast as the FOREMOST SPECIALIST of the age. He is permanently located in San Francisco, where for years the success of his practice has been a wonder to all, making cures in many cases pronounced incurable by others. His specialty includes the following

Nervous, Private and Chronic Diseases,

Such as Lost Manhood, Nervous and Physical Debility, Exhausted Vitality, Seminal Weakness, Spermatorrhœa, Prostatorrhœa, Impotency, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Syphilis, Diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Lungs, Heart and Stomach; Premature Decline in Man, and Female Weakness in Woman, and all Functional Derangements that result from youthful follies or excess in later years.

Microscopic Examination and Chemical Analysis.

Of the urine made in all cases where treatment is taken, so that whatever the complications may be, the microscope or chemical re-agents in analyzing the urine surely discovers them.

CURES GUARANTEED.

The Doctor has for many years had published a standing offer that he would forfeit

Five Hundred Dollars

For a case of these troubles he undertakes and fails to cure.

DR. MINTIE is the sole proprietor of the

GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY,

Sir Astley Cooper's

VITAL

Restorative!

A supply of which he has with him, and which he will be glad to furnish at regular rates. Price $1.50 per bottle. Four times the quantity, $5.

FEMALE WEAKNESS.

DR. MINTIE'S peculiar treatment of Prolapsus Uteri (falling of the womb), Leucorrhœa (whites), and all kindred female troubles, symptoms of which are backache, bearing pain on top of the head, feeling of debility, general weakness, lassitude, low spirits, feeling of languor and nervousness, is the most sensible, rational, sure and legitimate known to medical science. No humiliating personal examination necessary, and the disgusting speculum practice, so prevalent in the treatment of these diseases, is entirely done away with, as not only being of no benefit, but positively injurious. This fact has been demonstrated in thousands of cases in San Francisco and surrounding country, which have been permanently cured by DR. MINTIE, after the old speculum plan had failed.

Consultation Free.

It will cost you nothing to consult the Doctor, and if your case is curable he will frankly tell you, but if incurable, he will not undertake it.

Thorough examination and advice, including microscopic examination and chemical analyses of urine, $5.

Call on or address, DR. MINTIE, office 25½ First st., southeast corner First and Salmon streets, rooms 7 and 8, up stairs. Office hours, 9 to 3; in the evenings [illegible] 8. Only one call necessary; balance of treatment can be carried on conducted from his office in San Francisco, Cal.

CONSTRUCTION OF WATER WORKS.

OFFICE OF THE WATER COMMITTEE,
PORTLAND, OREGON, October 8, 1886.

SEALED PROPOSALS FOR THE CONSTRUCTION of works for the water supply of the city of Portland, Oregon, will be received at this office until 12 M. December 15th, 1886.

These works will be constructed according to the printed specifications dated August 28th, 1886, and will include thirty-one miles of wrought-iron pipe, 27 and 22½ inches in diameter; three iron bridges; two thousand feet of submerged pipe under and across the Willamette river; a reservoir within the city limits, and all other works described in the specifications, excepting those specified as "Head works," which are now under contract.

The specifications provide that the wrought-iron pipes shall be made of iron sixty inches in width, but proposals will also be received for furnishing the iron, and for manufacturing the entire length of pipe of iron either forty-two, forty-eight, or sixty inches in width.

Proposals will also be received for the construction of all the works described in the specifications, excepting the Head-works, for a lump sum, the contractor being at liberty to use iron for the pipes either forty-two, forty-eight, or sixty inches in width, the whole work to be completed within eighteen months after signing the contract.

In these modified forms of proposals the width of iron proposed will be stated in the bids, and a copy of this advertisement will be attached to each bid.

The proposals will be endorsed on the outside of the sealed envelope, "Proposals for Construction of Water Works," and addressed to Philip C. Schuyler, clerk of The Water Committee, Portland, Oregon.

The specifications and such further information as may be required will be furnished on application by

ISAAC W. SMITH,
Engineer of the Water Committee,
Portland, Oregon.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

ABOUT AN INDICTMENT.—John Mathieson, the keeper of a saloon at First and Lincoln streets, known as the ice cream gardens, was tried in the police court yesterday on a charge of selling liquor to minors on three different occasions. Mathieson was arrested last week on complaint of officer Morgan, the charge being brought under the state law, which provide that a saloon keeper who harbors a minor about his premises is subject to punishment even if he does not sell him anything of an intoxicating nature. Deputy District Attorney S[illegible] prosecuted the case. L. Mendenhall appeared in behalf of the defendant, and set up that the complaint was faulty in that it set up that liquor was sold to John Doe, a minor, whose true name is unknown. He maintained that the name John Doe could not hold good in a warrant for a[illegible] [illegible] on an indictment or complaint [illegible] cases where the proper name of the [illegible] [illegible] be ascertained [illegible] [illegible] Doe [illegible] their true names should have been set forth in the complaint. [illegible] [illegible] a day [illegible] the [illegible] judge from the sal[illegible] upon [illegible] submitted.

The entire product of [illegible] [illegible] is sold under contract to Portland firms. It is A1 gilt edged, commands a high price and is always in demand.

VERDICT AGAINST A RAILROAD.—The suit of George S. Foster vs. the Northern Pacific Railroad company was tried yesterday in Judge Shattuck's court before a jury. Foster sued to recover $[illegible] on account of damages to a wharf and wagon road at the time of the building of the Kalama exten[illegible] sion. Plaintiff alleged that during the time blasting was going on a large rock fell on and broke a hole through the roof of his barn, that his wagon road was filled up with broken rock, rendering it impassable, and the railroad company, although they agreed to repair all the damage, did not do so. The jury considered that Foster had been damaged to the extent of about $[illegible], and brought in a verdict to that effect.

FINE SEEDS.—One of the industries of Vermont is the gathering of white pine cones and extracting the seeds, which are sent to Germany, France and other parts of Europe. A bushel of cones yields [illegible] pound of seeds. The [illegible] [illegible] of the seed [illegible] Nor Fort [illegible]. The seeds of the white pine must be larger than those of our Douglas spruce, as when an order was received here from Europe for a pound of seeds of that tree it was found practically impossible to fill it. The man who undertook to procure the seeds found that he would probably have to cut down a whole forest to get them. But it seems he did not go to work the right way.

CHILD OUTRAGED.—At Salem yesterday morning two young men named Osborn (sons of Jo Osborn, formerly an officer of the penitentiary) were arrested for criminal outrage of a girl 9 years old, who was going to the sisters' school. They told her she was too old to go there and would take her to a better school. They took her down town, bought her some candy, then took the child in a small boat across the slough to the island where the outrage was perpetrated. The girl is not particularly bright, is partly of Indian blood, and probably they thought had no one to befriend her.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.—There were no developments yesterday in the murder at the Villard hotel basement. The impression prevails that the murderer or murderers left the city Saturday afternoon by the Atlantic express, and are now half way to the Missouri river. Coroner DeLin, in looking over the effects of the murdered man, found a revenue tax receipt for the district of Nanaimo, B. C., for Thomas Kennealy, dated December [illegible] 18[illegible]. This with other evidence found, denote that Thomas Kennealy is undoubtedly the man tree bane.

WILD TURKEYS.—A game dealer here yesterday received from Southern Oregon two turkeys which it was claimed were genuine wild ones. There has never been anything heard before of wild turkeys in this state. The birds in question were feathered down the legs in a manner different from the ordinary barnyard fowls, but if they were really found in a wild state they probably escaped from some one's flock. Turkeys have a habit of nest hiding and a whole brood may have strayed off and grown up in a wild state.

ROUGHLY HANDLED BY TRAMPS.—Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock Mr. Hardy, manager of the ice works at Albina, found some tramps sleeping in a wagon in front of the premises and proceeded to fire them out. The tramps retaliated by assaulting Mr. Hardy, and according to all accounts put him head downward into a barrel of water and nearly drowned him. Last evening the tramps were arrested and brought to this side and locked up for safe keeping over night in the county jail. They will be arraigned to day before the Albina justice of the peace.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—The efficient services in the saving of the paper mill materials at the recent destructive fire at La Camas of H. F. Libon, Z. V. Barthelemy and Thomas Galvin, of La Camas, Mr. Wm. Burnell, of Portland, and the officers and crew of the steamer Traveller were most conspicuous. Through the efforts of these gentlemen a large supply of paper intended for THE OREGONIAN was saved. Mr. Barthelemy was badly burned on his hands and face from the severe heat of the burning buildings.

THE CŒUR D'ALENES.—Mr. S. B. Pettengill returned Monday from the Cœur d'Alene mines. He reports rough weather for the past few weeks, rains in the gulches and snow on the mountain tops. Work is stalling, [illegible] approaches, but developments will continue without interruption until next spring. It is so now that [illegible] can get [illegible] the mines in winter, roads having been built in every direction.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.—[illegible] pioneer of Southern Oregon, died at his home in Jackson county a few days ago. He was born in [illegible] in 18[illegible], came to California in 1849 and to Oregon in 1850. He took a land claim in Washington county and remained there one year, teaching [illegible] part of the time, and in 1851 went to Rogue river valley, where he resided till his death.

THE ALBINA TERMINAL WORKS.—Yesterday afternoon the directors of the Northern Pacific Terminal company held a meeting in the [illegible] [illegible] and examined bids for constructing the terminal buildings in Albina. Five bids were presented. Another meeting will be held to-morrow morning, at which time the contract will probably be let.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—A [illegible] meeting of volunteer firemen met last evening at the police court room for the purpose of organizing a relief society, and adjourned until Thursday evening of this week, when all volunteers are expected to be present in order to complete the organization.

COUNTERFEITERS CONVICTED.

The trial of Wm. Etheridge and James Blagg, accused of counterfeiting United States coin, was concluded in the U. S. court yesterday. The defense was conducted by James A. Campbell and D. R. Murphy, who did the best possible for their clients, introducing several witnesses to testify to their good character. But when cross examined by United States Attorney McArthur it was shown that the knowledge of these witnesses in the matter was very limited.

Perhaps the most damaging testimony against the prisoners was that of the officers who accompanied the negro Freeman to the cabin at Glen rock where they resided. Freeman asked Blagg for some of the counterfeit money, saying that his father was going to pay for some land and he did not [illegible]. The officers who were listening outside heard Blagg say that he could not supply him, that Etheridge was away and had hidden the m[illegible]lds, etc. Blagg said if he had the moulds he would make some of the money, as he had seen Etheridge do it so often he knew how it was done. The somewhat extensive array of implements suitable for counterfeiting and the counterfeit dollars exhibited were mute but powerful witnesses against the prisoners.

The opening argument of U. S. Attorney McArthur was followed by those of Murphy and Campbell for the defense and the case was closed in a very masterly and convincing argument by Mr. McArthur.

Judge Deady then delivered his charge to the jury. He read over to them the different counts in the indictment and gave all necessary explanations and instructions. The first and second indictments charged the prisoners with counterfeiting coin and were similar except as to the [illegible]. The third indictment charged them with [illegible] and passing a counterfeit dollar in Louis Dan[illegible]. The fourth and fifth indictments charged them with passing counterfeit money on two other persons, but as there was no proof offered in these counts the jury was instructed not to take them into consideration.

The court reviewed the case and instructed the jury as to what weight the testimony of the different witnesses and the prisoners was entitled. The jury retired about 4:40. At [illegible] they came in for instructions as to whether it was necessary that it should be established that $100 of the bogus coin had been manufactured as charged in the first count of the indictment. They were instructed that the making of one counterfeit coin was all that was necessary to constitute a crime, and in a short time they returned a verdict finding the prisoners guilty on the first three counts.

$500 Not Called For.

It seems strange that it is necessary to persuade men that you can cure their diseases by offering a premium to the man who fails to receive benefit. And yet Dr. Sage undoubtedly cured thousands of cases of obstinate catarrh with his Catarrh Remedy, who would never have applied to him if it had not been for his offer of the above sum for an incurable disease. Who is the next bidder for cure or cash?

PRESCOTT NOTES.

PRESCOTT, W. T. Nov. 7.

There will be a railroad built from here to [illegible] Flat next spring.

There is land enough in one farm near Prescott to support fifty families comfortably.

There is no saloon here; prohibition carried at the last election, and the law is enforced.

This country is well adapted to the stock raiser and dairyman. Butter is scarce and [illegible] cents per pound.

We need enterprising men who are willing to open up new industries when they are sure of their success.

We would like to see a whole colony come here, build us a woolen mill, and start a broom factory and a fruit cannery.

Fruit trees grow on our highest hills without irrigation and bear finely flavored fruit. The trees grown on uplands do not winter kill.

Farmers are still sowing grain. The warm rains are bringing up all grain that is sown, also the bunch grass on the surrounding hills.

Prescott has never had a boom, and we do not expect one, but there is a rich country around it, and its growth will be steady and sure.

Hop raising should be more extensive; we have not enough fruit to supply the demand. We ship [illegible] broom corn and send to Portland for our brooms.

There is sufficient timber here for fuel or fencing. Now is the time for men to come here who want to buy cheap homes pleasantly located, in an intelligent community.

Poultry of all kinds do remarkably well here, as there is never a case of cholera among them. Light Brahmas, Dark Brahmas and Buff Cochins crossed make splendid layers and sell readily at 50 cents apiece.

There is considerable wool shipped from Prescott each year. Sheep are profitably raised as there is excellent range for all stock here. We need a woolen mill. With the finest water power in the world it is strange some one does not start a woolen factory here, instead of shipping off all the wool then buying it back after it has been manufactured. Any parties who would build a woolen mill at this point would be given extra inducements.

SCHOOL BOARD.

A special meeting of the board of school directors was held Monday afternoon, all the members present except Director Thompson.

A communication was received from Balfour, Foreman & Guthrie, asking that mortgage of $[illegible] on lot 3, blk 11, Couch addition, paid first week in August, be stricken from their assessment. Granted.

Noah Lambert asked for a deduction of $1600 on his assessment for mortgage paid July 31, but not canceled till August [illegible]; granted, and clerk instructed to make special assessment of the money paid.

Elizabeth Kerrigan claimed debts to cover her assessment; laid on the table.

A clerical error of $1600 in assessment of Henry Davenport was corrected.

The Oregonian Railway company limited, asked that a mortgage assessed to them on lots [illegible] and [illegible] block 100 be allowed as indebtedness against the assessment of the same block to Robert Bell. Laid on the table.

Assessment against P. Anderson of $20.0 was ordered canceled, said property being outside the city limits.

Upon motion of Director Durham the assessment roll was then approved and a warrant was issued to the clerk commanding him to collect the tax. The customary notice was ordered published.

Miss M. Shockley was elected assistant teacher in the eighth grade, Harrison street school, at a salary of $[illegible] a month.

An expenditure for a ten inch gong or [illegible] [illegible] North school was authorized. Adjourned.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

PORTLAND, NO[illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

In THE OREGONIAN some two months ago a letter was published asking scientists to explain "why water flows from numerous springs on Mount Tabor, [illegible] to be obtainable at slight depth thereon, while [illegible] the surrounding plain depths must be sunk to obtain it." The [illegible] of the replies showed a belief that the waters at Mount Tabor flowed through subterraneous fissures from Mount Hood or some other part of the Cascade range. Will the same and other scientific gentlemen explain—Why Mount Tabor is also [illegible] free from fog when in those later autumn days Portland and Vancouver are enveloped by it. My own opinion (I would like to be corrected if wrong) is that the gravelly soil of the level plain surrounding Mount Tabor absorbs all the [illegible] moisture so rapidly as to leave little for the heat of the sun to vaporize by day and less for the cold of night to precipitate into what is called fog, and further, that Mount Tabor being [illegible] is fanned by every breath of heaven, which from whatever quarter it comes, cleanses it of all atmospheric impurities.

J. [illegible] D. CLARK.

A DEMOCRATIC VIEW OF IT

New York World

The elections contribute some lessons from which the president may, if he will, learn wisdom. For nearly two years he has conducted his administration with a view to strengthening himself among the republicans. His civil service policy has been shaped more with the idea of mollifying republicans than of satisfying democrats. His financial policy has been a continuation of that of the republicans and adapted to please the business men of Wall street. What has been the result? In the most important municipal election ever held in this city, in which party politics was in no way involved, the republican managers refused to accept a candidate whose name is synonym for business integrity and disinterested public service, and thrust forward an inexperienced youth whose chief claim to support was the party label which he wore. And this in the face of what they recognized as a menace to the peace and prosperity of the city, and of their own repeated protestations that politics should not enter into the local elections. In other words the republicans will their mugwump contingent represented by the able and astute Times will take all they can get from a democratic administration and give nothing in return. If they will stick to their party fetich in a city election, wherein only public and business questions are involved, what can be expected of them when the stake to their mind is the spoil of the nation?

The second lesson is the George movement. By [illegible] of cutting the ligatures of party fealty and showing himself independent alike of the leaders, the voters and the principles of the democracy, the president has invited the breaking of party ties by others. Hence a great bolt like that of the democratic voters to George is not strange.

The third lesson may be read in the loss of several congressmen to the party and of many more to the administration. In the president's own state hardly a democrat would stand, except one who proclaimed his hostility to the administration. In this city and Brooklyn nearly all the members [illegible] either open or well understood opponents [illegible]. The plain indication of these [illegible] is that the personal policy of conducting an administration [illegible] success. It weakens the [illegible] party without strengthening [illegible] with the republicans.

FROM THE YUKON.

A Miner Returns with Reports Not Exactly Like Previous Ones.

Mr. James L. Chapman, an old mining man, arrived in Portland yesterday from a two years' prospecting trip on the Yukon river and its tributaries in Alaska. He gives quite an account of the country differing greatly from the report made by a party of miners who last summer passed over the same ground. Mr. Chapman says that the members of this party did no work at all but simply went down the river and took the steamer for San Francisco, where they gave the whole country a very black eye.

The country, he says, is rich, very rich, with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] with the old time [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] worth [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] each [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the head of the river which comes into the Yukon from [illegible]. All the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Stewart river [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the head waters of the stream is [illegible] [illegible] he said did push up toward the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] does not know what they found.

A [illegible] has been established [illegible] trading [illegible] at the mouth of Stewart river, and the [illegible] called Fort Nelson. Of the 100 men who have been working this summer the greater number will winter at Fort Nelson. The climate reaches severe extremes, the thermometer falling as low as 60 degrees below zero in the winter. In summer the mean temperature ranges from 80 to [illegible] degrees, with very little rain. The distance from the coast to where Mr. Chapman was is 800 miles. The journey, which takes about six weeks, is rough. After leaving salt water the Cascade range has to be crossed. Then the Yukon is reached at a distance of about thirty five miles from the coast. There raft or boat is built and passage made to the mouth of Stewart river, which is then accessible. A small steamer is already running and navigation is easy and practicable. The whole country is rough and heavily timbered and abounds in game of all kinds, moose, caribou, bear and other large game, while the streams are alive with fish. The Yukon is full of salmon of a large size and superior quality. There are few Indians, and they are quiet and peaceable and anxious to trade with the white men, whom they seem glad to see. The Indians are in their native condition, dressing in furs and skins and using the bow and arrow in hunting, though of late some few firearms have been introduced among them.

Mr. Chapman was for many years engaged in missionary work for the Presbyterian church among the various tribes of Indians in Alaska. He is now on his way to Southern Oregon to look into some new inventions for separating gold dust. He intends going back to Alaska in the spring, starting in March and travelling on ice, there is absolutely no way of traveling except over the water courses—in the summer by boat and in the winter over the ice.

THE EAST SIDE

COURT NOTES

A case was on trial in Justice Bullock's court on Monday afternoon in which Walter Jones was plaintiff and C. H. Hill of Albina, the defendant. The complaint sets forth that some time in July last plaintiff entered into a contract with the defendant to raise and block a large building belonging to defendant in good and workmanlike manner, at the stipulated price of $125 and that he had done the work according to contract, and that the defendant had accepted the job and paid $50 on account, leaving a balance due of $75, which he refused to pay. The defendant in his answer denied that the work had been done in a workmanlike manner, alleging that portions of the buildings attached to the main building had been raised, and likewise claiming that the plastering had been cracked and some of the windows broken, etc., and put in a counter claim for something over $20. The examination of witnesses took up all the afternoon and the case was argued and submitted yesterday morning and taken under advisement by the court until 2 P. M. Saturday. Shortly afterwards, defendant not wishing to be at outs with a fellow citizen, came into court and paid the claim and the costs and the case was dismissed.

The case of the state of Oregon vs. Fritz Kranz, accused of selling a quart of beer to a minor, which was continued from the recorder's court from Friday last until 9 A. M. yesterday, was again continued until 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At that hour the defendant appeared for trial, but the prosecuting witness failed to appear. The defendant produced a written order from the father of the boy to Kranz authorizing him to let the boy have the beer. He also produced several other orders of a like character which the father had sent, and he also testified that the mother of the boy was standing on the sidewalk near the saloon waiting for the boy to bring the beer out. After examining the orders and hearing the testimony of the defendant, the recorder ordered him released from custody.

ATTEMPT TO BURN A BUILDING

An unoccupied house belonging to a Mrs. Bradley, of Portland, situated on Third street, Holladay's addition, was set on fire on Sunday evening last. Some person gaining entrance and lighting a fire on the floor. A Mr. Highland, living near by, seeing a light inside the house and knowing that no one lived there, went over and found a fire kindled as stated and put it out before any damage had been done. Some time later a second attempt was made to burn the same building, and the fire was again put out. Search was made for the would-be incendiary, but he could not be found.

NOTES

A oracle social will be held at the residence of Mr. John Kenworthy this evening.

Mr. Stoker, the contractor, will have the new Fourth street bridge at the north end of the city finished according to contract and ready for travel some time this afternoon. It is a good substantial structure and will last many years.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

ABOUT AN INDICTMENT.—John Matheson the keeper of a saloon at First and Lincoln streets, known as the ice cream gardens, was tried in the police court yesterday on a charge of selling liquor to minors on three different occasions. Matheson was arrested last week on complaint of officer Morgan, the charge being brought under the state law which provides that a saloon keeper who harbors a minor about his premises is subject to punishment, even if he does not sell him anything of an intoxicating nature. Deputy District Attorney Simon prosecuted the case. [illegible] Mendenhall appeared on behalf of the defendant, and set up that the complaint was faulty in that it set up that liquor was sold to John Doe a minor, whose true name is unknown. He maintained that the name John Doe might hold good in a warrant for arrest or in an indictment or complaint in a[illegible] case where the proper name of the person [illegible] [illegible] be ascertained [illegible] in the present in[illegible] where the minor referred to as John D[illegible] [illegible] alive and well their true names should have been set forth in the complaint. The case was [illegible] until to-day when [illegible] will [illegible] sound from a legal standpoint [illegible] submitted

CREAMERY AT [illegible]—The creamery [illegible] in construction at [illegible] Washington county, [illegible] finished [illegible] probably start up before [illegible] of next [illegible] The promoters of the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Colvis. At first the [illegible] will [illegible] milk [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] capacity [illegible] any time [illegible] [illegible] the cream [illegible] right straight along [illegible] Farmers [illegible] miles from Hillsboro [illegible] [illegible] It has a capacity for [illegible] [illegible] The farmer brings the milk to the creamery and has to wait [illegible] [illegible] The skim milk is returned to him and he takes it home in the same [illegible] the first milk. Before the milk [illegible] through the separator it goes through [illegible] in which process all impurities and extr[illegible] matter are extracted. The entire product of butter is sold under contract to Portland firms. It is A1 gilt edged, commands a high price and is always in demand.

VERDICT AGAINST A RAILROAD.—The suit of George S Foster vs. the Northern Pacific Railroad company was tried yesterday in Judge Shattuck's court before a jury. Foster sued to recover $7[illegible] on account of damages to a wharf and wagon road at the time of the building of the Kalama extension. Plaintiff alleged that during the time blasting was going on, a large rock fell on and broke a hole through the roof of his barn, that his wagon road was filled up with broken rock, rendering it impassable, and the railroad company although they agreed to repair all the damage did not do so. The jury considered that Foster had been damaged to the extent of about $[illegible], and brought in a verdict to that effect.

PINE SEEDS.—One of the industries of Vermont is the gathering of white pine cones and extracting the seeds which are sent to Germany, France and other parts of Europe. A bushel of cones yields [illegible] pound of seeds. The cones [illegible] dried and the seed [illegible] [illegible] New York Post. The seeds of the white pine must be larger than those of our Douglas spruce, as when an order was received here from Europe for a pound of seeds of that tree, it was found practically impossible to fill it. The man who undertook to procure the seeds found that he would probably have to cut down a whole forest to get them. But it seems he did not go to work the right way.

CHILD OUTRAGED.—At Salem yesterday morning two young men named Osborn (sons of Jo Osborn, formerly an officer of the penitentiary) were arrested for criminal outrage of a girl [illegible] years old, who was going to the Sisters' school. They told her she was too old to go there and would take her to a better school. They took her down town, bought her some candy, then took the child in a small boat across the slough to the island where the outrage was perpetrated. The girl is not particularly bright, is partly of Indian blood and probably they thought had no one to befriend her.

NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS.—There were no developments yesterday in the murder at the Villard hotel basement. The impression prevails that the murderer or murderers left the city Saturday afternoon by the Atlantic express and are now half way to the Missouri river. Coroner Dell in looking over the effects of the murdered man found a receipt for tax receipt for the district of N[illegible] B C, for Thomas Kennedy dated December [illegible] 18[illegible]. This, with other evidence found, denotes that Thomas Kennedy is undoubtedly the man's true name.

WILD TURKEYS.—A game dealer here yesterday received from Southern Oregon two turkeys which it was claimed were genuine wild ones. There has never been anything heard before of wild turkeys in this state. The birds in question were feathered down the legs in a manner different from the ordinary barn yard fowls but if they were really found in a wild state they probably escaped from some one's flock. Turkeys have a habit of nest hiding and a whole brood may have strayed off and grown up in a wild state.

ROUGHLY HANDLED BY TRAMPS.—Yesterday afternoon about 1 o'clock Mr Hardy, manager of the ice works at Albina, found some tramps sleeping in a wagon in front of the premises and proceeded to fire them out. The tramps retaliated by assaulting Mr Hardy and according to all accounts put him head downward into a barrel of water and nearly drowned him. Last evening the tramps were arrested and brought to this side and locked up for safe keeping over night in the county jail. They will be arraigned to-day before the Albina justice of the peace.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT.—The efficient services in the saving of the paper mill materials at the recent destructive fire at La Camas of H F Tibbon, Z V Barthalemy and Thomas Galvin of La Camas, Mr Wm Burnell, of Portland and the officers and crew of the steamer Traveller were most conspicuous. Through the efforts of these gentlemen a large supply of paper intended for THE OREGONIAN was saved. Mr Barthalemy was badly burned on his hands and face from the severe heat of the burning buildings.

THE CŒUR D'ALENES.—Mr S H Pettengill returned Monday from the Cœur d'Alene mines. He reports rough weather for the past few weeks, rains in the gulches and snow on the mountain [illegible]. Work is slacking up as winter approaches, but developments will continue without interruption until next spring. It is so now that people can get round among the mines in winter, roads having been built in every direction.

ANOTHER PIONEER GONE.—[illegible], a pioneer of Southern Oregon, died at his home in Jackson county a few days ago. He was born in [illegible] in 18[illegible], came to California in 18[illegible] and [illegible] and in 18[illegible] He took a donation claim in Washington county and remained there one year teaching [illegible] part of the time, and in 1851 went to the Rogue river valley where he resided till his death.

THE ALBINA TERMINAL WORKS.—Yesterday afternoon the directors of the Northern Pacific Terminal company held a meeting in the O. R. & N. [illegible] to examine bids for construction of the terminal buildings in Albina. Five bids were presented. Another meeting will be held to-morrow morning, at which time the contract will probably be let.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN'S ASSOCIATION.—A meeting of [illegible] volunteer firemen [illegible] last evening at the police court [illegible] for the purpose of organizing a relief and social society, and adjourned until Friday evening of this week, when all volunteers are expected to be present in order to complete their organization.

COUNTERFEITERS CONVICTED.

The trial of Wm Etheridge and James Blagg, accused of counterfeiting United States coin, was concluded in the U S court yesterday. The defense was conducted by James A Campbell and D R Murphy who did the best possible for their clients introducing several witnesses to testify to their good character. But when cross examined by United States Attorney McArthur it was shown that the knowledge of these witnesses in the matter was very limited.

Perhaps the most damaging testimony against the prisoners was that of the officers who accompanied the [illegible] Freeman to the cabin at Coffin rock where they resided. Freeman asked Blagg for some of the counterfeit money, saying that his father was going to pay for some land, and he could use it. The officers who were listening outside heard Blagg say that he could not supply him, that Etheridge was away and had hidden the moulds, etc. Blagg said if he had the moulds he would make some of the money, as he had seen Etheridge do it so often he knew how it was done. The somewhat extensive array of implements suitable for counterfeiting and the counterfeit dollars exhibited were mute but powerful witnesses against the prisoners.

The opening argument of U. S. Attorney McArthur was followed by those of Murphy and Campbell for the defense and the case was closed in a very masterly and convincing argument by Mr McArthur.

Judge Deady then delivered his charge to the jury. He read over to them the different counts in the indictment and gave all necessary explanations and instructions. The first and second indictments charged the prisoners with counterfeiting coin and were similar except as to the [illegible] [illegible]. The third indictment charged them with uttering and passing a counterfeit dollar on Louis Dammasch. The fourth and fifth indictments charged them with passing counterfeit money on two other persons but as there was no proof offered on these counts the jury were instructed not to take them into consideration.

The court reviewed the case and instructed the jury as to what weight the testimony of the different witnesses and the prisoners was entitled. The jury retired about 4 30. At [illegible] o'clock they came in for instructions as to whether it was necessary that it should be established that $100 of the bogus coin had been manufactured as charged in the first count of the indictment. They were instructed that the making of one counterfeit coin was all that was necessary to constitute a crime. In a short time they returned a verdict finding the prisoners guilty on the first three counts.

$500 Not Called For

It seems strange that it is necessary to persuade men that you can cure their diseases by offering a premium to the man who fails to receive benefit. And yet Dr Sage undoubtedly cured thousands of cases of obstinate catarrh with his Catarrh Remedy, who would never have applied to him if it had not been for his offer of the above sum for an incurable disease. Who is the next bidder for cure or cash?

PRESCOTT NOTES

PRESCOTT, W. T., Nov 7

There will be a railroad built from here to [illegible] Flat next spring.

There is land enough in one farm near Prescott to support fifty families comfortably.

There is no saloon here, prohibition carried at the last election, and the law is enforced.

This country is well adapted to the stock raiser and dairyman. Butter is scarce and 37½ cents per pound.

We need enterprising men who are willing to open up new industries when they are sure of their success.

We would like to see a whole colony come here, build us a woolen mill and start a broom factory and a fruit cannery.

Fruit trees grow on our highest hills without irrigation and bear finely flavored fruit. The trees grown on uplands do not winter kill.

Farmers are still sowing grain. The warm rains are bringing up all grain that is sown, also the bunch grass on the surrounding hills.

Prescott has never had a "boom," and we do not expect one, but there is a rich country around it, and its growth will be steady and sure.

Hop raising should be more extensive. We have not enough fruit to supply the demand. We ship our broom corn and send to Portland for our brooms.

There is sufficient timber here for fuel or fencing. Now is the time for men to come here who want to buy cheap homes pleasantly located, in an intelligent community.

Poultry of all kinds do remarkably well here, as there is never a case of cholera among them. Light Brahmas, Dark Brahmas and Buff Cochins crossed make splendid layers and sell readily at 50 cents apiece.

There is considerable wool shipped from Prescott each year. Sheep are profitably raised as there is excellent range for all stock here. We need a woolen mill. With the finest water power in the world, it is strange some one does not start a woolen factory here, instead of shipping off all the wool then buying it back after it has been manufactured. Any parties who would build a woolen mill at this point would be given extra inducements.

SCHOOL BOARD

A special meeting of the board of school directors was held Monday afternoon, all the members present except Director Thompson.

A communication was received from Balfour, Guthrie & Co. asking that mortgage of $[illegible] on lot [illegible] blk 115 Couch addition paid first week in August be stricken from their assessment. Granted.

Noah Lambert asked for a deduction of $1000 on his assessment for mortgage paid July [illegible] but not canceled till August [illegible]. Granted, and clerk instructed to make special assessment of the money paid.

Elizabeth Kerrigan claimed debts to cover her assessment, laid on the table.

A clerical error of $1000 in assessment of Henry Davenport was corrected.

The Oregonian Railway company, limited, asked that a mortgage assessed to them on lots [illegible] and [illegible] block 103, be allowed as indebtedness against the assessment of the same block to Robert Bell. Laid on the table.

Assessment against P. Anderson of $3000 was ordered canceled, said property being outside the city limits.

Upon motion of Director Durham the assessment roll was then approved and a warrant was issued to the clerk commanding him to collect the tax. The customary notice was ordered published.

Miss Mary Shockley was elected assistant teacher in the eighth grade, Harrison street school, at a salary of $[illegible] a month.

An expenditure for a ten inch gong for Central [illegible] North school was authorized. Adjourned.

HEALTH IS WEALTH

PORTLAND, Nov. [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

In THE OREGONIAN some two months ago a letter was published asking scientists to explain "why water flows from numerous springs on Mount Tabor [illegible] [illegible] obtainable at slight depth there [illegible] [illegible] surrounding plain [illegible] must be sunk to obtain it." [illegible] sum of the replies showed a belief that the waters of Mount Tabor flowed through subterranean [illegible] from Mount Hood or some other part of the Cascade range. Will the same and other scientific gentlemen explain why Mount Tabor is absolutely free from fog when in these later autumn days Portland and [illegible] are enveloped by it. My own opinion I would like to be corrected if wrong is that the gravelly soil of the [illegible] [illegible] Mount Tabor absorbs all [illegible] [illegible] moisture so rapidly as to leave little for the heat of the sun to vaporize by day and less for the cold of night to precipitate into what is called fog, and further that Mount Tabor being a butte is fanned by every breath of heaven which from whatever quarter it comes cleanses it of atmospheric impurities.

J. [illegible] CLARK

A DEMOCRATIC VIEW OF IT

New York World

The elections contribute some lessons from which the president may, if he will, learn wisdom. For nearly two years he has conducted his administration with a view to strengthening himself among the republicans. His civil service policy has been shaped more with the idea of mollifying republicans than of satisfying democrats. His financial policy has been a continuation of that of the republicans and adapted to please the business men of Wall street. What has been the result? In the most important municipal election ever held in this city, in which party politics was in no way involved, the republican managers refused to accept a candidate whose name is a synonym for business integrity and disinterested public service and thrust forward an inexperienced youth whose chief claim to support was the party label which he wore. And this in the face of what they recognized as a menace to the peace and prosperity of the city and of their own repeated protestations that politics should not enter into the local elections. In other words the republicans, with their mugwump contingent represented by the able and astute Times, will take all they can get from a democratic administration and give nothing in return. If they will stick to their party fetich in a city election wherein only public and business questions are involved, what can be expected of them when the stake to the [illegible] is the spoils of the nation?

The second lesson is the George movement. By him [illegible] cutting the ligaments of party fealty and showing himself independent alike of the leaders, the voters and the principles of the democracy the president has invited the breaking of party ties by others. Hence a great bolt like that of the democratic voters to George is not strange.

The third lesson may be read in the loss of six congressmen to the party, and of many more to the administration. In the president's own district a democrat could stand, except one who [illegible] his hostility to the administration. In [illegible] city and Brooklyn many all the [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] either open or well understood opponents of the president. The plain indication of these facts is that the personal policy of [illegible] [illegible] administration is not a success. It weakens the president, will his own party without strengthening him with the republicans.

THAT SHAWL COLLAR DRESS SUIT

The [illegible] New York agony and made by Arthur Kohn, our [illegible] merchant tailor a few weeks ago for one of our prominent citizens, was a great attraction at a reception a few evenings since, with its bright satin facing and the elegant fit. The wearer was the adored of all. For fine garments to order call and see Kohn the merchant tailor, corner Second and Morrison streets.

Jersey Coats for Men,

Also a large and elegant line of Cardigan jackets in plain and fancy effects, at very low prices. Make no mistake, my store is at corner Second and Morrison streets.

FROM THE YUKON.

A Miner Returns with Reports Not Exactly Like Previous Ones.

Mr James L. Chapman, an old mining man, arrived in Portland yesterday from a two years' prospecting trip on the Yukon river and its tributaries in Alaska. He gives quite an account of the country differing greatly from the report made by a party of miners who last summer passed over the same ground. Mr Chapman says that the members of this party did no work at all but simply went down the river and took the steamer for San Francisco, where they gave the whole country a very [illegible] eye.

The country he says is rich, very rich with [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] advantage with the old time [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] Mr Chapman [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Stewart river which come [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the Stewart [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] the head waters [illegible] [illegible] Two parties he said did push [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] don't know what they found.

A store has been established [illegible] [illegible] trading [illegible] at the mouth of Stewart river and the place is called Fort Nelson. Of the 100 men who have been working this summer the greater number will winter at Fort Nelson. The climate reaches [illegible] [illegible] the thermometer going as low as [illegible] degrees below zero in the winter. In summer the mean temperature ranges from 80 to [illegible] degrees with very little rain. The distance from the coast to where Mr Chapman was is 800 miles. The journey, which takes about six weeks, is [illegible] rough after leaving salt water. The Cascade range has to be crossed and then the Yukon is reached a distance of about thirty-five miles from the coast. There a raft or boat is built and passage made to the mouth of Stewart river, which is then ascended. A small steamer is already running and navigation is easy and practicable. The whole country is rough and heavily timbered and abounds in game of all kinds, moose, caribou, bear and other large game, while the streams are alive with fish. The Yukon is full of salmon of a large size and superior quality. There are few Indians and they are quiet and peaceable and anxious to trade with the white men whom they seem glad to see. The Indians are in their native condition, dressing in furs and skins and using the bow and arrow in hunting, though of late some few firearms have been introduced among them.

Mr Chapman was for many years engaged in missionary work for the Presbyterian church among the various tribes of Indians in Alaska. He is now on his way to Southern Oregon to look into some new inventions for separating gold dust. He intends going back to Alaska in the spring, starting in March and traveling on ice. There is absolutely no way of traveling except over the water courses, in the summer by boat and in the winter over the ice.

THE EAST SIDE

COURT NOTES

A case was on trial in Justice Bullock's court on Monday afternoon in which Walter Jones was plaintiff and C H Hill, of Albina, the defendant. The complaint sets forth that some time in July last plaintiff entered into a contract with the defendant to raise and block a large building belonging to defendant in good and workmanlike manner at the stipulated price of $125, and that he had done the work according to contract, and that the defendant had accepted the job and paid $50 on account, leaving a balance due of $75 which he refused to pay. The defendant in his answer denied that the work had been done in a workmanlike manner, alleging that portions of the buildings attached to the main building had been raised, and likewise claiming that the plastering had been cracked and some of the windows broken, etc., and put in a counter claim for something over $20. The examination of witnesses took up all the afternoon, and the case was argued and submitted yesterday morning, and taken under advisement by the court until 2 P. M. Saturday. Shortly afterwards, defendant not wishing to be at outs with a fellow citizen, came into court and paid the claim and the costs, and the case was dismissed.

The case of the state of Oregon vs. Fritz Kranz, accused of selling a quart of beer to a minor, which was continued from the recorder's court from Friday last until 9 A. M. yesterday was again continued until 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. At that hour the defendant appeared for trial but the prosecuting witness failed to appear. The defendant produced a written order from the father of the boy to Kranz authorizing him to let the boy have the beer. He also produced several other orders of a like character which the father had sent and he also testified that the mother of the boy was standing on the sidewalk near the saloon waiting for the boy to bring the beer out. After examining the orders and hearing the testimony of the defendant the recorder ordered him released from custody.

ATTEMPT TO BURN A BUILDING

An unoccupied house belonging to a Mrs Bradley of Portland, situated on Third street, Holladay's addition was set on fire on Sunday evening last, some person gaining entrance and lighting a fire on the floor. A Mr Highland living near by seeing a light inside the house and knowing that no one lived there went over and found a fire kindled as stated and put it out before any damage had been done. Some time later a second attempt was made to burn the same building and the fire was again put out. Search was made for the would-be incendiary but he could not be found.

NOTES

A cranbo social will be held at the residence of Mr John Kenworthy this evening.

Mr Stoker the contractor will have the new Fourth street bridge at the north end of the city finished according to contract and ready for travel some time this afternoon. It is a good substantial structure and will last many years.

PERSONAL

Hon. T. B. Handley of Hillsboro was in the city yesterday.

Dr Chas. T. [illegible] has returned from his visit to St. Paul, Minn.

Mr J. Meyer left last night for San Francisco to be absent about two weeks.

Hon. T. L. Cauthorn of Corvallis arrived here yesterday from an extended visit to his old home at the East.

Dr P. T. Keene, manager of the Mutual Hospital Aid association, returned this week after two months' absence during which he visited all the principal Western cities in the interests of the association.

Mr Franklin MacVeagh, a wealthy merchant of Chicago and a government director of the Union Pacific, arrived here yesterday and was driven about the city by Mr C. H. Prescott. Mr MacVeagh is wonderfully well pleased with Portland and showed no little interest in the city.

The Tacoma shingle mill has orders from Ohio for a large quantity of shingles, and they are now kept busy at cutting them to supply their eastern demands.

The Kalama Advocate claims a population of 4500 for the county It invites immigration, and claims that there are thousands of good acres of land in the county which are unsettled

Richard Condon, in the Port Blakely mill, undertook to remove a sliver from a timber he was sawing, when his right hand was drawn against the saw, where several fingers were cut off and the hand badly lacerated

Capt Wand, with a force of about twenty five men, have been engaged in cutting brush just below Kalama, to be used in the revetment opposite St. Helens, Or The brush is cut and shipped on scows to the place where it is used

The new insane asylum at Steilacoom will not be completed for several weeks yet. Work is still progressing on the large brick building, which is three stories high with a basement. The present asylum is in old Fort Steilacoom The buildings are pretty old and dilapidated, but are kept as clean as the deck of a man-of-war

The Port Townsend Argus is deeply disgusted. It says The result in Port Townsend shows how impracticable it is to try to build up a prosperous town here. It is a lamentable fact that our people cannot be depended upon to stand together where their public interests are at stake. Indications are not wanting to prove that democratic gold was freely used to purchase votes against Mr Bradshaw

The boy opium smuggler of Seattle, R. [illegible] Heustis, was an adept in the business. In the two large trunks found in his room there was almost everything to be thought of—Japanese Chinese and American clothes of the finest texture, and valued at hundreds of dollars, were jammed in the trunks, with other articles too numerous to mention, and the whole denoted that the boy had considerable money What attracted attention more than anything else however, was an account book and a telegram The former when examined showed a simple system of book keeping that was wonderful and also showed that the opium smuggling business had been followed for a long time, and that sales varying from $1000 to $1500 had been made. He is now in jail There will probably be some rich developments when he is put on trial.

OREGON

R. D Sandford, an enterprising farmer of Josephine county, has already disposed of 50,000 pounds of potatoes and several thousand pounds of onions of a first-class quality

While Wm Payne of Sam's valley was climbing over a fence last week, his gun was discharged. The bullet struck him near the navel and lodged under the left shoulder blade, touching the left lung on its course The wound is considered very dangerous

Kipple, Baumle & Co 's new ten-stamp quartz mill, situated near the mouth of Shively gulch, on the right hand fork of Jackson creek, which has been under way of construction for some time past, has been completed and was started up for the first time on Tuesday last. It is said by those who have visited the mill that it is first class in every particular and when fully regulated will be second to none in Southern Oregon

Gold Beach Gazette The view and survey of the road from Ellensburg to Port Orford was completed last Wednesday. From F S Moore, one of the viewers, we learn that an excellent route for a wagon road has been found the entire distance. A wagon-road through Curry is one of the most important questions now before the people of the county, and the subject will continue to be agitated until the object is accomplished If the present effort is defeated, the result will be another petition and another survey, and the taxpayers will continue to contribute money for the location of roads that could much better be expended in the actual work of building a wagon-road.

AN OLD MINER FROM ALASKA.

Tacoma Ledger

One of the miners from the Yukon river region in Alaska arrived in Tacoma yesterday on his way to Portland He says there are about 150 miners there and every one has made money over his expenses Sixty-five of them are wintering there. During the past two seasons over $60,000 have been taken from the bars along the river So far the diggings are shallow, easily worked, the gold being of a fine character. Rocking is the principal style of mining, though some of the miners are sluicing The river has been prospected for a distance of 320 miles. There will be a large rush for Stewart river in the spring The greatest amount rocked out in one day was $100, while sluicing panned out from $30 to $80 to the man. Prospecting for deep ground has been attempted, but water has always interfered A foot or so below the surface frozen ground is met, and this has continued to a depth of ten and fifteen feet.

A LETTER FROM AN INDIAN

TACOMA, W T, Nov 6th, 1886

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Your editorial on "An Impracticable Proposition" has duly entertained and has given me thoughts which I can no longer conceal I am aware the proposition made at Lake Mohonk Ind, by the recent conference held there, will not be approved by many who seem to think the Indian problem can be solved by the pen or any way which will not require both mental and physical exertions.

Many who doubtless have sympathy for the Indian cause will disapprove an almost Utopian theory, viz citizenizing the Indians.

True, education and the right understanding of the responsibilities which each citizen ought to hold secret in forming and conducting a good government

But are you going to hold the rising generation in same level with the old Indians and then say they have "no more fitness for their duties than the beasts of the field."

If you believe firmly and squarely (and we will respect your honest views no matter if they do not exactly correspond with ours) that the Indians cannot be civilized, cannot be made men and women and are destined to perish then you ought to hold in view the fact that you should be slow to boast of your civilization and be modest in your pretensions as Christians

If you cannot civilize the savages at home, it inevitably becomes a question "how far can you make a success of those lines among the inferior in foreign lands "

The reservation system has outlived its usefulness and with a few exceptions the reservations have become social spots

What then is the next step?

Will you keep the Indians in such influence of reservation life, that instead of being bettered is positively degraded by them? I give it as my candid opinion that our government has never had a plain way of managing the Indians that was worthy of being called a policy, from the fact that it has never has attempted to govern us What little control it has exercised over us has been done by persuading, coaxing and bribing us to be good Indians

Under such treatment you expect to see us well civilized and then sarcastically say After a century [illegible] an Indian [illegible] cleanly and [illegible] a curiosity Reflect for a moment [illegible] the broken treaties, fraudulent devices [illegible] have been [illegible] [illegible] faith of our government [illegible] ments of [illegible]

Is it [illegible]

If citizenship is [illegible] ability to [illegible] ing generation [illegible] citizens?

The negroes [illegible] citizens [illegible] just as ignorant as can be even [illegible]

Taken out of barbarism [illegible] guages into the knowledge, benefits and abilities of the American people

It was accomplished because they were forced to work for themselves and enjoy their own fruits

If this great work was accomplished and placed on the pages of history as a grand victory to the enlightment, civilization and christianizing the world, then do not be partial in placing men on equal footing Why not allow the Indian citizenship?

Free us from the right of support and ignorance and let us enjoy citizenship. We are bound and entitled to become citizens, and why not now? H. C. SICADE.

A CARD.

MILTON, Or, Sept [illegible], 1885

A sense of duty to those who may be similarly afflicted prompts me to make the following statement My son Henry, aged 14 years, was almost entirely deaf since quite a child and having failed to obtain any help for him, I applied to Dr H J Smith, of San Francisco, who pronounced his case one of Catarrhal Deafness, and said he could cure his Catarrh and improve his hearing at least one-half He has only been under the doctor's treatment (at home) a short time, and I find his hearing completely restored and Catarrh nearly cured N PIERCE.

MILTON Or, Sept. 29, 1886 —I take pleasure in stating that, after the lapse of one year I find my boy, Henry's, condition better than stated in my testimonial of one year ago
